Tourist housing limits challenged

State group contends ordinance too restrictive

By Bethanie Gengler
NEENAH NEWS

The Wisconsin Realtors Association is asking for summary judgment in a lawsuit against the city of Neenah, alleging that the city's tourist housing ordinance violates state law and landowners' rights to use their property as a short-term rental.

The growing popularity of short-term rentals, facilitated by apps such as Airbnb and Vrbo, has also brought challenges to some communities.

Common short-term rental complaints include tenants being noisy, greater traffic and a limited availability of long-term rental properties and residential real estate.

In recent months, Ashwaubenon, Green Lake and Monona have engaged in discussions to consider increased restrictions on short-term rentals.

The Wisconsin Realtors Association (WRA) first filed a lawsuit in Winnebago County Circuit Court last September on behalf of its 17,500 members, which include residential and commercial real estate sales agents, brokers, appraisers, inspectors, property managers, bankers and other professionals.

The lawsuit challenges Neenah's enforcement of its tourist housing ordinance, which WRA says affects the use of Several local women participated in a free "Fused by Numbers" workshop at the Bergstrom-Mahler Museum of Glass on Saturday. The women used glass pieces, frit, stringers and dots to create a glass tile that will be fired and fused and used in a large mural depicting influential women from Wisconsin. When complete, the mural will be on museum display. Work sessions will continue throughout the year until it's completed. Females ages 5 and up who want to get involved can sign up for an upcoming workshop on the Bergstrom-Mahler website.

Fox Crossing police staffing at high school approved

By Bethanie Gengler
NEENAH NEWS

The Neenah Board of Education approved a three-year contract with the Village of Fox Crossing at a meeting Tuesday, authorizing village police to supply one school resource officer (SRO) at the new high school set to open this fall.

SROs are responsible for law enforcement activities during school hours, with duties that include de-escalating incidents, enforcing ordinances and state laws, investigating crimes that occur on school grounds or reported by students, intervening when a subject presents a threat and assisting in developing school safety plans.

The school district previously employed one SRO at the high school and one at the middle and elementary schools. Once construction on the high school in Fox Crossing is completed later this year, the district will reconfigure.

Both Neenah and Fox Crossing have been in negotiations with the district over the SRO contracts since last year. With the new high school in Fox Crossing, the district only wanted to fund one SRO in Neenah and one in Fox Crossing.

Both Neenah and Fox Crossing police chiefs spoke at city and school board meetings, stating the need for two SROs from each department. After months of back and forth, the district approved a contract with Neenah in February, autho-

Post-pandemic policies evolving

Coverage phasing out in some health care areas

By Kaitlyn Scoville
NEENAH NEWS

Over the next few months, about 15 million Americans are due to lose health care coverage that had been guaranteed during the pandemic.

The U.S. and other groups such as the World Health Organization have been ending emergency orders put in place three years ago to protect citizens in uncertain times.

“Based on current trends, the Department of Health and Human Services is planning for the federal Public Health Emergency for COVID-19 to expire at the end of the day on May 11,” a statement from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services reads. “Thanks to the administration’s whole-of-government approach to combatting the virus, we are in a better place in our response than we were three years ago, and we can transition away from an emergency phase.”

According to an Associated Press article, the WHO first deemed COVID a global health emergency in January 2020. WHO director-general Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus recently said the pandemic has been “on a downward trend for more than a year, with population immunity increasing from vaccination and infection.” That, he said, has allowed most countries “to return to life as we knew it before COVID-19,” meaning the worst part of the pandemic is over.

ThedaCare and other health organizations have also been moving their masking policies to optional.

Doug Gieryn, Winnebago County

Health Department health director, said despite these changes there will still be free self-test kits and vaccines available at the department, 112 Otter Ave. in Oshkosh, for as long as the state provides them.

The Health Department is working with other counties and community partners to provide support and referrals for needs such as social services enrollment, housing transitions and alternative resources.

More than 60% of Winnebago County residents have completed the primary vaccine series, and about 20% have received the updated booster. More than 313,000 vaccine doses have been administered to county residents since December 2020.

Gieryn

“None of the health department services will completely cease due to the end of the federal COVID-19 public health emergency,” Gieryn said. “We’ve modified how we deliver resources for pandemic response based on COVID-19 levels in the areas of data, testing and vaccination. We have transitioned staff resources back toward nonpandemic-related public health work.”

As a result of the changes, the program enrollment and renewal processes will change for those using BadgerCare or other Medicaid programs, Gieryn said. Renewals will no longer be automatic. People will need to understand eligibility requirements and how to gather, provide and update their account to stay covered. Coverage for COVID-19 testing and treatment will vary by insurance type.

Additionally, private insurance companies were required to cover COVID tests without co-pays or co-insurance, which will end with the expiration of the public health emergency. Medicare Part B enrollees will still have coverage for COVID-19 tests without cost-sharing for laboratory-conducted (PCR) tests, but there may be a copay for an associated doctor’s visit. Access to free over-the-counter tests will end.

People with Medicaid coverage will continue to receive free PCR, rapid antigen and at-home tests through September 2024. After that date, COVID-19 at-home testing coverage will vary by state.

Gieryn said vaccines will remain free for everyone as long as the supply of federally purchased vaccines lasts. Changes in the vaccine program will be precipitated by depletion of federal supply, product expiration or changes in emergency use agreements.

“The ending of the emergency declaration does not mean that COVID-19 is gone, but it does mean that we are transitioning our response,” Gieryn said. “The virus is still here and remains a leading cause of death in the U.S. Staying up to date on recommended COVID-19 vaccinations still provides the best protection.”

“COVID-19 has become a large part of public health’s identity, but we work on so many other issues and provide a range of programs and services to the community that have been masked by the pandemic. Now, more than ever, we are prioritizing our work related to mental health, social connectedness, housing and substance use with a goal of creating and supporting fair opportunities for all people and communities to achieve good health.”

Those seeking assistance can reach out to the Health Department by dialing 211 or visiting the state health department website at dhs.wi.gov.

Town of Neenah approves ARPA-funded projects

By Bethanie Gengler
NEENAH NEWS

The Town of Neenah approved two expenditures using American Rescue Plan Act dollars totaling about $367,000 at a meeting last week, while a third expenditure was put on hold.

The town was awarded $369,166 in state and local fiscal recovery funds under ARPA, which was signed by President Biden in 2021. A resolution approved in March by the Winnebago County Board of Supervisors is expected to deliver another $145,000 in ARPA funds to each township in Winnebago County.

The town board met in December to brainstorm potential uses for the money. Suggestions included using funds to improve parks, update playground equipment, fix Larsen Road or purchase a fire truck. The board also discussed the possibility of remodeling the town hall, located at 1600 Breezewood Lane, which would facilitate an improved election process.

The town board approved a resolution last week to use $162,535 to improve Keating Park, situated at 128 Klompen Court, by adding permanent restrooms. Keating Park is 6.3 acres and features a baseball diamond, playground, a wooded area with a walking trail and picnic areas.

The town also approved spending $204,700 on Town Hall improvements. The funds will be used to replace the HVAC and air exchange system and improve the meeting room and kitchen facilities.

A third expenditure of $136,900 for Fire Department apparatus bay improvements was tabled. The plan was to add another stall to the apparatus bay to house an ATV and trailer. Town Clerk Ellen Skerke said the expenditure was put on hold for additional considerations.

“It’s not that the board isn’t willing to support that,” she said. “It’s that the fire department is saying, let’s take a pause for a minute and really think about what’s really the best thing that we need, so that’s why that was tabled.”

Veterans see benefits from honoring Poppy Days

Neenah News

The Hawley-Dieckhoff American Legion Post 33 and Auxiliary presents its annual Poppy Days May 25-26, with paper poppies being distributed to businesses within the community.

Poppies are the memorial flower of American veterans who died on the battlefield, with the red poppy symbolizing the blood shed. National Poppy Day is celebrated on the Friday before Memorial Day.

The designation of poppies as a memorial flower began in 1920 based on a poem "In Flanders Fields," written by Lt.-Col. John McCrae while serving on the front lines of World War I.

The poem reads in part: "In Flanders Fields the poppies blow, between the crosses row on row. That mark our place; and in the sky, the larks, still bravely singing, fly. Scarce heard amid the guns below."

Red poppies were initially used as a way to remember and honor those lost in World War I and have expanded to remember every fallen American soldier.

Char Kiesling has been a member of the Legion Auxiliary for 47 years, serving as president of the Post 33 Auxiliary for 11 years. She said the proceeds from Poppy Ladies from the American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Program presented Neenah Mayor Jane Lang with the Neenah Poppy Proclamation for signature earlier this month. Paper poppies will be distributed at various locations with donations going to a Poppy Fund to help veterans.

Days go toward veterans in need.

"Poppies are our major source of income, which strictly goes to the veterans,"

she said. "That money cannot be spent for anything else but for the veterans' needs and their families."

High school students compete in state visual arts event

Neenah High School had nine students earn top places at the Wisconsin Art Education Association State Visual Arts Classic competition recently in Madison.

Sienna Murphy, Madelyn Ragean, Maddy Janichek and Marley Van Domelen all earned first-place awards. Grace Koszewa, Keira Nickel, Avery Cowell and Emlyn Swardenski each achieved runner-up finishes and Alix Johnson took home a third-place award.

Advised by teacher Emma Santiago, each student brought a long-term piece of art they had been working on based on prompts and mediums that were scored after they arrived. They then participated in an on-site art making event with specific instructions they did not receive until the competition.

Students had two hours to create a piece that was judged and scored, then participated as a team in an art history quiz bowl and a critical thinking problem-solving component.

Mayor Jane Lang recently signed a Poppy Proclamation, designating the month of May and specifically May 25-26 as Poppy Days. The proclamation asks residents to pay tribute to those who have made the ultimate sacrifice by wearing the paper flower.

Those little red crepe paper poppies that Americans around the country see being distributed at businesses around their neighborhoods are hand made by hospitalized and disabled veterans. Making the poppies provides a financial and therapeutic benefit to the veterans, according to the Legion.

The Wisconsin American Legion and Auxiliary distributes 350,000 poppies each year. All proceeds are used for rehabilitation of veterans who have been honorably discharged.

The auxiliary is made up of the spouses and female descendants of veterans. The Neenah Auxiliary chapter has 131 members.

Kiesling said the Legion helps veterans in several ways such as giving out gift cards and providing support to veterans whose families are in need.

"It's whatever the veteran would need and ask for," she said.

Poppy Chairman Patti Julius said the Legion also supports veterans' medical needs.

"If they say they're diabetic and they need a special pair of shoes and shoes cost them $300, we would donate to the family for that," she said.

"I would like to thank the community of Neenah," Kiesling said. "In the past, they have been excellent responders for our poppy drive and Poppy Days."

Park View opens new training center

Neenah News

Winnebago County's Park View Health Center's new training center at 725 Butler Ave. officially opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony May 11 ahead of this week's National Skilled Nursing Care Week.

One of the main purposes of the $1 million building finished in late 2022 is to train new certified nursing assistants (CNAs) on site. Many are nursing students or have an interest in the nursing field.

"We know health care is going through some tremendous staffing challenges and we hope this is one way to help the county and the community," said Park View administrator Linzi Gazga Parish.

Parish said people can apply as a hospitality aide to be eligible to attend the class. Hospitality aides help support CNAs so they can provide hands-on care.

"This gives them a bird's-eye view of what it is like to work in health care, prior to entering the class to ensure it is something they really want to do," she said.

Classes with a maximum of eight students are typically three weeks and all classroom and clinical work are completed on site. Students are paid while attending classes as they are considered county employees and are asked to stay employed with the county for at least six months after training.

Three classes are scheduled to start May 30, June 20 and July 11.

CNA instructor and registered nurse Megan Shea has been with Park View for more than 10 years. Sarah Silverthorn, CNA coordinator and 20-year Park View employee, also helps with the class under the direction of the instructor.

A recently approved paid feeding assistant program will also operate out of the training center, and has already trained 17 staff members.

Covey housing project teams up county, FVTC

By Anya Kelley
NEWS CONTRIBUTOR

Covey, Fox Valley Technical College and Winnebago County came together to break ground last week on a four-bedroom, fully accessible home for adults with disabilities in Neenah.

Project planning began a few years ago when Covey was being asked by many of their families if they would offer residential programs for their loved ones.

Covey is a respite care and adult day program group that has been providing care and creating skill-building opportunities for adults with disabilities since 1954. Covey offers in-home and out-of-home care for individuals.

"Research indicated that safe affordable and supportive housing was in very short supply and very high demand," said Pam Shutz, Covey chief executive. "Not only for our families that we currently serve, but for many families in Winnebago County caring for someone with a disability."

Covey approached FVTC's residential construction program about building the home. Every year the program builds a typical house and this year, they were ready to take on the task of making one fully accessible.

Gov. Tony Evers awarded Winnebago County with a $10.3 million Neighborhood Investment Fund grant meant for housing continuum services. The money was awarded and administered by the county, allowing Covey and FVTC to move forward with this project.

"When I ran, I ran for this – collaboration, communication reform and growth," said Winnebago County Executive Jon Doemel. "And I think this project, it's all four of those."

The hallways will be wider than those of a traditional home, as well as the doorways. The entrance is a "zero entry" with no stairs leading up to the front door.

The home will feature special door-knobs for residents who have dexterity issues and a roll-in shower to allow for wheelchair entry. Sections of the countertops in the kitchen will be lower for people in wheelchairs and there will be grab bars placed in areas to help residents be independent.

This is the first project Covey has collaborated with FVTC on.

"It is just so exciting," Shutz said. "They have been as passionate as we are about making this a beautiful place for people to live."

She is proud of the work Covey is doing and wants people to understand just how important it is right now.

"People aren't doing (this)," Shutz said. "Unfortunately, between COVID, the staffing crisis and low reimbursement rates, a lot of adult family homes are closing."

Providers are closing because they are no longer financially viable. She understands the risk they are taking but feels confident that they will succeed.

"We feel like we have enough support and enough creativity to be successful in meeting this need for people," Shutz said.

This accessible home is one of three Covey has in the works. Another will be in Winnebago County and the other home in Green Bay.

While this home in Neenah will likely be most of the residents' forever home, Covey may gear one of the others to help people gain a greater level of independence so they can eventually live on their own.

The Neenah home is set to be completed by next spring and residents moving in soon after.

Plexus to sponsor Habitat for Humanity home

Show Choir, alumni close season with Pickard finale

By Robert Barthell
NEWS CONTRIBUTOR

The Neenah High School Vintage and Act II Show Choirs held their final show of the 2022-23 season at the high school's Pickard Auditorium this past Saturday.

This year marked the 50th anniversary of the program, as demonstrated by hundreds of community members and program alumni who were invited on stage to sing and dance with the current choir members in the final acts.

The show featured a repertoire spanning various genres from Vintage and Act II. For Finale, this involved learning a new set of melodies from throughout Show Choir's existence, in addition to the music they prepare throughout their competitive seasons.

"We've worked hard for this. We've been coming here for about six hours a week, just to practice, and I think our hard work paid off," said Macy Schmidt, a junior in the Vintage Choir. "It was a great show, and we had a lot of fun."

Schmidt also acknowledged some of the challenges in performing these pieces.

"Keeping the energy up throughout the show is a little bit difficult. We're dancing nonstop, but it's all in feeding off of each other and cheering each other on, so that was something we got over," she said.

Framed images of program members over the years decorated the auditorium, with attendees representing half a century of musical achievements. In attendance was Jim Vine, who directed the choirs for nearly 30 years; he received a standing ovation when called up on stage by Amy Westcott, the current director, who took his place in 2001.

Families of Show Choir students were invited to place bids on raffle baskets, whose winners were announced during intermission as the profits support the program.

With this being the final show choir group to call the 1275 Tullar Road campus home, Westcott noted what made this year's students special.

"This is the smallest group we've ever had in Vintage," she said, adding that it didn't deter her from pursuing more complicated music for the group. It also meant individual members were given a microphone.

Westcott quickly proclaimed that alumni could take any trophy of their choice to keep.

"It'll make the moving process much easier," she said.

Add appeal to your outdoor space by growing hops

You don't have to be a homebrewer, or even a beer drinker, to grow and appreciate hops.

What many people see as the most important ingredient in beer (secret: it's not; that would be water), hops provide a wonderful bitter taste and aroma, from piney to spicy, floral to fruity. Their numerous varieties help make each beer unique, and many new strains are regularly being introduced into craft brewing. It's hard to keep up.

Hops also make a wonderful addition to your garden or outdoor lounge area. They grow easily, flower beautifully in late summer, and return year after year without effort from you.

Technically speaking, Humulus lupulus is the plant, and hops are the flowers from that plant. Yet, for this article, we're being lazy and calling the entire plant "hops."

Later in this article, you'll read about a no-cost opportunity to start growing your own hops at home. Right now, let's dive into why hops are so much fun.

Hops take about a year to get fully established and become a healthy, thriving plant. However, once they take hold and grow at their full potential, hops will climb along many surfaces and can cover enough area to provide shade over a favorite garden bench or two.

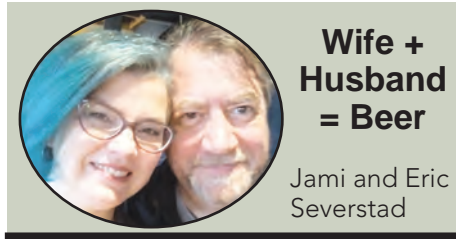

Instead of vines, typical of grapes, hops grow bines from which they produce flowers. These turn into hop cones and are used in the brewing process right off the bine or condensed into pellets for commercial brewing.

You can even pick and crush fresh hop cones and drop them into any beer to provide a burst of bitterness and aroma. We use a simple French press, which minimizes the mess in a cool, frothy pint.

You can also donate fresh hop cones to several local breweries (if they're brewing a "wet hop" batch in the fall), and some homebrew clubs will accept them. Of course, if you decide to learn to brew beer yourself, you'll have one ingredient ready to go.

One important downside to growing hops is that, in large quantities, they're toxic and potentially deadly to dogs and, more rarely, cats. According to the ASPCA, hops in any form, fresh or spent (after brewing) can be dangerous for dogs. So, if you can't isolate your hops from your pets, or be confident they won't eat the plant, it may not be the best choice for you.

You now know the flowers turn into hop cones, and the vines are called bines. Now, let's explore hop roots, or rhizomes. These are plant stems that grow horizontally just a few inches underground, sending shoots popping up through the surface oftentimes feet away from the main plant.

Rhizomes are used to grow new hop plants. A simple cutting of a pencil-thickness stem can be replanted in a sunny area, and they usually grow wonderfully without much care required. All they need is something to vertically climb up — a fence, a trellis, some wire, etc. — and the bines will grab hold and shoot up.

Hops climb in a spiral pattern around whatever structure is available, using stiff hairs that provide friction to grab a surface. Vines, on the other hand, use tendrils or suckers to climb, which is a main difference between vines and bines.

This is a hearty, aggressive plant. Not only do hop rhizomes stay healthy and dormant over a long Wisconsin winter, sending up asparagus-like shoots every spring, they grow at a fierce pace.

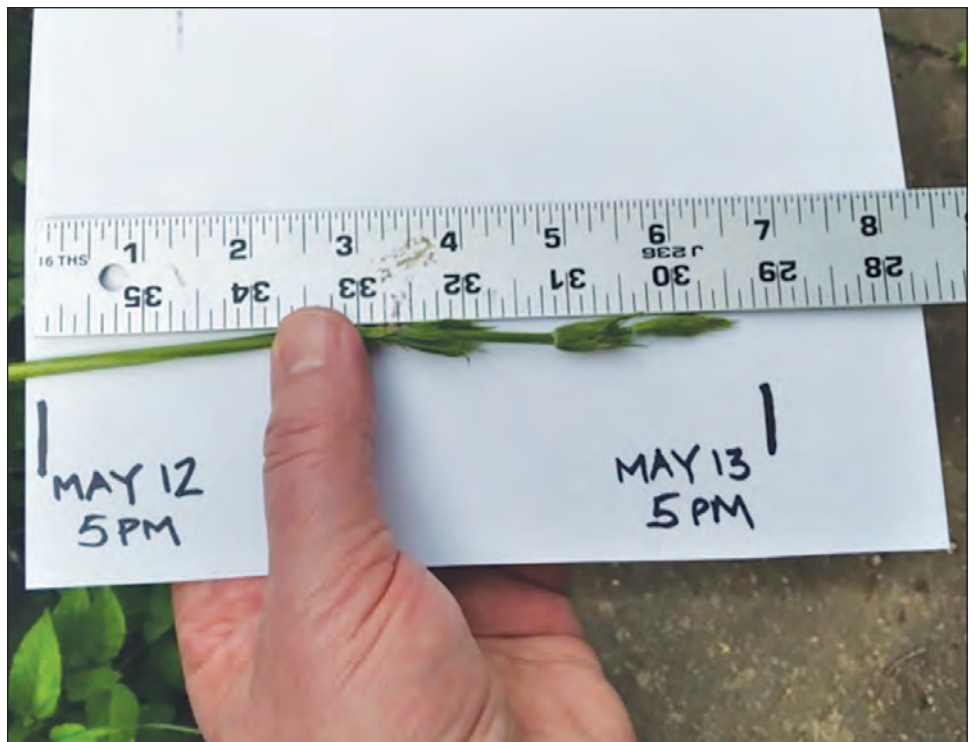

We've measured peak midsummer growth at 12 inches in one 24-hour period. While that's not a constant growth rate, it does give you an idea of what hops are capable of. We've seen one well-established hop plant grow up the side of a home and across a powerline to the other side of the street.

Ready to get some hops? Hop rhizomes are regularly traded between homebrewers and others who just appreciate the plant. Another option is to find online stores selling hop rhizomes of nearly every variety, although we haven't obtained any through purchase. Today, we'll help you get some for nothing.

The authors of "Wife + Husband = Beer" appreciated our readers, and we have more than enough hops to share. Our Willamette hops have been flourishing for years (they annually climb up and over our garage). Typically, this variety of hops is used to add aroma to beer, and it's light on the bitterness, as compared to Citra, the high alpha acid hop and most popular variety used in craft brewing.

All you need to do is email us at wife.husband.beer@gmail.com, and we'll dig up some rhizomes and get them to you soon along with basic planting instructions. Try it out and see what you think of growing your own.

Wife + Husband = Beer is a monthly column exclusive to Neenah News! Tell us what local beer lovers need to know, and we'll cover it. It's a sacrifice we make for you, dear readers. Email: wife.husband.beer@gmail.com

Top photo: Not only used for brewing beer, hops are a beautiful, decorative addition to any yard. Ready to grow your own?

Tourist rentals

properties and their sale.

In Neenah, city ordinance requires that operators of tourist housing properties submit an application, obtain a permit and meet a number of requirements.

Documents indicate WRA is challenging several specific tourist housing requirements that it claims violate state law and put its members and residents at a disadvantage compared to other communities.

Neenah requires that tourist housing properties be the primary residence of the applicant. WRA contends that Wisconsin statutes do not define a residential dwelling as being the primary residence of the applicant.

"If the city is allowed to enforce this restriction, it results in the owners of residential properties within the city being treated unequally than the owners of residential properties in other municipalities within Wisconsin that do not have this unlawful provision in their ordinances," WRA wrote.

Neenah limits the number of days a tourist housing property may be rented to 120 days within a calendar year. WRA argues that Wisconsin statutes allow a municipality to limit the total days that the property may be rented, but "no fewer than 180 days," indicating the city may be violating the statute by setting a time restriction that is greater than the legal limit.

The city's tourist housing ordinance and application each include a provision that permits, once granted, may be revoked by the director of community development for cause.

WRA wrote that the city does not include a definition of what cause entails and does not state objective reasons or a due process hearing for revocation of a tourist housing permit.

Municipalities in Wisconsin are permitted to add restrictions to short-term rentals up to the limits set by state law. WRA noted in legal filings that a municipality may not enact or enforce an ordinance that is contrary to state statutes.

The city defended its tourist housing ordinance in an answer it filed, stating that WRA does not have standing to bring a suit against the city and no justifiable controversy exists between Neenah and WRA.

Late last month, WRA filed a motion for declaratory and summary judgment. WRA also asked the court to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance.

WRA is not asking for monetary damages, noting that damages are remedial, not preventive, and not an adequate remedy in this case.

WRA and City Attorney David Rashid did not respond to a request for comment.

Circuit Court Judge Daniel Bissett is expected to issue an oral ruling in the lawsuit at a court date scheduled for July 19.

Young workers looking for area lawns to trim

By Bethanie Gengler
NEENAH NEWS

Four teenagers are looking for local lawns to mow as part of a nationwide challenge to mow 100 of them for free for those in need.

Jacob, 18; William, 17; Nicholas, 15; and Zachary, 13, of Neenah, are participating in the 50 Yard Challenge by Raising Men & Women Lawn Care Service. The family joined the cause last year as a way to give back to the community.

The challenge encourages kids to mow 50 lawns for free for the elderly, disabled, veterans or anyone in need. Families who sign up three or more children for the challenge agree to mow 100 lawns. Once they complete the challenge, they'll each receive a new lawn mower, weed eater and blower.

The boys' mother, Amy Jape, said that after mowing all last summer, they are just over halfway to their goal of 100. She said they're looking for locals lawns to help complete the challenge.

The boys are mowing within 15 minutes of central Neenah. Participants must clean up lawn ornaments, pet excrement and toys before they arrive. The teens are allowed to spend a maximum of two hours.

The boys show up in groups of two or more. As a requirement of the challenge, they take a photo of every lawn before and after completion.

The mowing is free but the kids are allowed to accept tips, which cover the cost of gas. They're not allowed to accept food or drinks. Jape explained that Zac has diabetes.

The 50 Yard Challenge was started by Alabama resident Rodney Smith Jr., who founded the nonprofit Raising Men & Women Lawn Care Service. It is funded entirely on public donations used to purchase the lawnmowers, weed eaters and blowers that are donated to children.

Smith was inspired to start the organization during his senior year of high school when he saw an elderly man struggling to mow his lawn and volunteered to help him. Smith has since mowed lawns in all 50 states.

This year, 4,466 children in eight countries are participating in the challenge. There are 82 participants in Wisconsin.

Residents who want to set up a time for the boys can email amykjape@gmail.com.

Algae testing help sought on Winnebago

Volunteers are needed to collect water samples at offshore buoys on Lake Winnebago with the goal of creating forecasts of blue-green algae toxins.

The volunteers will collect samples to pair with buoy data at two locations in the lake: a north central buoy east of North Asylum Bay and in Neenah southeast of Riverside Park.

Sample collection can occur all summer, starting June 1 and ending in October. Frequency of sample collection depends on a person's schedule.

Questions and volunteer interest should be sent to Robert Stelzer at stelzer@uwosh.edu.

School officer

rizing two SROs at the middle and elementary schools.

Under the contract, the district will pay $80,000 per SRO, which covers 75% of the costs for each officer for 39 weeks of the 52-week school year. Taxpayers will fund the remaining 13 weeks, an estimated $50,000.

The contract approved at Tuesday's meeting authorizes one SRO at the high school in Fox Crossing. The district will pay $92,500 for the first year and will also provide a one-time stipend of $10,000.

The amount will cover all costs and expenses associated with SRO services including salary, benefits, equipping the SRO with a squad vehicle, computer, body-worn video camera and other necessary policing equipment.

Superintendent Mary Pfeiffer said there are two primary differences between the Neenah and Fox Crossing contracts, with the first pertaining to overtime.

While the Neenah contract authorizes overtime that the district must pay when it calls SROs to assist with after-school or other events occurring within the city, the district will not pay overtime for the Fox Crossing SRO, including overtime for attending events where police coverage is deemed necessary.

"The $92,500 is all inclusive, I would say, so no matter when we call on an officer to assist us after school this would encompass all of that," Pfeiffer said.

The other major change is the addition of a $10,000 stipend, which is only authorized for one year. Pfeiffer explained that the stipend is related to conversations with Fox Crossing in 2020 to annex the property for the high school.

The district committed to paying a total of $103,000 for a Fox Crossing SRO, which is the cost if the district were to use the previous formula of covering 75% for a year. The $10,000 one-time stipend is to cover the difference between the contracted amount and the amount the district previously agreed upon.

After the first year, the district will continue to pay the $92,500 each of the next two years, subject to review and adjustments each year. Costs associated with duties carried out at events that would normally be considered overtime will also be reviewed.

Included in the contract is a stipulation that the district and village agree to meet on or around January and May of each year to review the SRO program, call volume, responses and anticipated needs in the future to ensure proper staffing of the position.

Several board members raised the question of whether the Neenah and Fox Crossing SROs will collaborate with each other.

Pfeiffer said there was some confusion about overall jurisdiction by both the Neenah and Fox Crossing police chiefs, but now there's more clarity and she hopes the departments will be prepared to collaborate.

"As you know, the chief stood and said, 'I want two officers,' and without data to support a fourth officer, our ambition is to collect that but also to recognize the need for collaboration," she said. "So, do we really need another one or is that collaborative effort going to be sufficient?"

The school board voted 8-1 in favor of the Fox Crossing SRO contract, with Kristian Sahr voting against.

Powerhouse Ghosts fend off Neenah's upset bid

By Dustin Riese
NEWS CONTRIBUTOR

Kaukauna is sitting atop Division 1 softball in Wisconsin right now.

The Ghosts are two-time defending WIAA state champions and have a win streak approaching 70 games.

Neenah certainly made them sweat one out Tuesday.

Morgan Harwood's gem kept the Rockets close but Neenah wasn't able to scratch out any runs in a 4-0 loss in Neenah on a beautiful Tuesday afternoon.

"I loved the effort and energy our girls brought to the field tonight," head coach Steven Gross said. "Kaukauna has a phenomenal program and the girls battled tonight. Unfortunately, we couldn't get anything going offensively."

Harwood gave the Rockets a chance to pull the upset.

Harwood

The senior hurler allowed just seven hits and struck out five without walking a batter. Only three of the four runs she gave up were earned.

"I feel that the team effort today was amazing," Harwood said. "Everyone did their absolute best and we left everything on the field. Unfortunately we came up short."

Gross certainly backed his pitcher's efforts.

"Morgan did a great job of moving the ball around the zone," Gross said. "She was able to get them to chase quite a few pitches out of the zone to create outs. Our defense was also very good behind her and they made the plays they needed to make."

Kaukauna took the lead with a pair of runs in the third inning and then tacked on two more runs in the top of the seventh to keep the Rockets at bay.

The Ghosts' No. 9 hitter Hailie Peters provided a key blow in the inning with an RBI double.

"That lineup is always tough and there is never a dull moment," Harwood said. "It's always a fun battle and everyone does their best to keep a positive attitude on the field. Everyone feeds off each other and we will always have each other's back."

For the Rockets, who were held without a hit by Kaukauna ace Karley Peters, the loss will sting but with two close losses against the Ghosts this season – Kaukauna beat Neenah 3-1 earlier this year – the team knows it's not too far away from the best team in the state.

And with the postseason looming ahead, the Rockets will put their 16-6 overall record up against anybody.

"We are playing well right now and we continue to get better," Harwood said. "As long as we continue to make adjustments both offensively and defensively, we are going to be in a great position to win games. I am excited to see what we can do once the playoffs start as we look to make a deep run again. With the experience this group has, I feel like we have a great chance to reach Madison."

Neenah junior Allie Ziebell (1) will play with U-19 National team this summer in Spain.

Neenah's Ziebell tabbed for USA basketball's U-19 squad

Neenah High School junior Allie Ziebell has been selected to the USA women's basketball under-19 national team that will participate in the world championships this summer.

Ziebell is one of 12 athletes to earn a spot on the team after a recent three-day tryout in Colorado Springs. The team consists of six players who recently completed their freshman year of college at major programs such as South Carolina, UCLA and Ohio State, as well as four high school seniors.

Ziebell is one of two high school juniors named to the squad, along with Joyce Edwards from Camden (S.C.) High School.

The team's head coach is Joni Taylor, who is the head coach at Texas A&M University.

The team will compete in the International Basketball Federation (FIBA) U-19 World Cup July 15-23 in Madrid, Spain.

Ziebell, the Wisconsin Gatorade High School Player of the Year this past season, is the fourth player from Wisconsin chosen for the team over the years and the first as a Wisconsin high school player. The other three Wisconsin athletes (Gabbi Ortiz, Racine Prairie - 2015, Jolene Anderson, South Shore - 2005, and Sonja Henning, Racine Horlick - 1989) all were selected while already in college.

Ziebell led the Rockets to a 26-2 overall record during the 2022-23 season and their first Fox Valley Association championship since 2009. She averaged 25.5 points per game and helped Neenah earn a berth in the sectional finals for the second straight year.

In just three seasons, Ziebell is the all-time leading scorer in the history of the Fox Valley Association with 1,995 career points. The career total ranks 35th among all players and 12th among Division 1 players in Wisconsin history.

Ziebell is verbally committed to attend college at the University of Connecticut in the fall of 2024.

Moss helping carry on Neenah tennis tradition

By Steve Clark
NEENAH NEWS

Finding a new doubles partner as a senior, especially expecting to play at the No. 1 flight, can be nerve-wracking at times.

Even in a legendary tennis program like Neenah, where talent just seems to seep out of every name on the roster, it's not just about picking a really good player. It's about how will the individual games of the two players mesh together, will the other person make it fun being on the court with them and how long will it take to really get to know the new partner so you know their every move.

So, when Rockets' head coach Kyle Falk approached senior Satchel Moss about who he might like to team with this season, Moss didn't have to give it much thought. Not when one of your oldest friends – Ben Kotchen – is among the players to choose from.

"Ben and I have been best friends since pre-school I would say," Moss said earlier this week. "Ben and I have talked about playing together for so long, since we were little kids. We just kind of knew we wanted to play together and it has worked out perfectly."

Moss said that he and Kotchen grew up playing tennis in the parks and rec department under the guidance of Kotchen's grandfather, Tom Berken – the person the Neenah High School tennis courts are named for.

But his good friend was not his only opponent.

His older brother, Cooper, also played the sport and the two certainly got on the court with each other as kids. As sibling rivals go, this was a doozy.

"When I think about it, we have never really played a full match because I don't think we could get through it together," Moss said. "He picked up tennis a little later than me so I kind of had the upper hand in that sense, but with him being the older brother, he always knew how to get me going."

As brothers, Satchel and Cooper – who was two grades ahead – may have battled on the court, but as teammates the two worked fine.

Cooper Moss played his senior season at No. 1 doubles along with Khaled Saleh and finished fourth at the WIAA State Tournament and his younger brother was there rooting him on the entire way.

"That was so fun. They had a phenomenal year," Satchel Moss said. "It was so fun cheering him on with the whole family there and hoping that one day I would be in the same spot and here I am."

Moss has been in the varsity lineup all three seasons at the high school level – his freshman year was lost to the COVID pandemic – but each season has filled a different flight.

Senior Spotlight

As a sophomore, despite wanting to play doubles, Moss fell into the lineup at No. 3 singles and played with the rest of the Rockets at team state last season.

"I wanted to play doubles but with how our lineup was and who we had on our team, it worked out better if I played singles," Moss said. "I'm happy I got to play singles because I think it taught me how to control myself because you are on an island all alone, compared to doubles and you get your partner to keep you going through the ups and downs of a match."

Moss did make the move to doubles as a junior and teamed with Andrew Werner at the No. 2 flight. The pairing worked well together as the duo won more than 25 matches last season, including two at the state tournament.

But Werner graduated last spring, leaving Moss without a partner for his senior year.

That's when Kotchen stepped in and the two have been at No. 1 doubles all season.

"It's so fun playing with him," Moss said. "We're best friends off the court and we just get to play great tennis every single day."

Moss said that there is more to making the jump to No. 1 doubles that just the rise in talent level of opponents.

Moss said there is a leadership role that the top flight feels and it's a role that he takes seriously.

"The biggest difference I would say, we get to be the leaders of the doubles for our team," Moss said. "Our teammates get to look up at us, see our energy flowing and feed off of that. We get to get their energy flowing in a way."

Seniors showing leadership is a benchmark of the Neenah tennis program and has played a role in its history of success.

Moss said that there isn't pressure to keep the tradition going because the seniors make sure that players have fun being a part of the program and while also working on their games. Because of that, the success just takes care of itself.

"The seniors will always pass down traditions and having a team environment and bringing everyone together is important. That's how I got to see it," Moss said. "There's just a light, fun vibe to the team so it isn't so serious. Even with how

St. Mary Catholic claims WCTC tourney title

The St. Mary Catholic tennis team dominated the field at the Wisconsin Combined Tennis Conference tournament last Saturday on their home courts.

The Zephyrs collected championships in six of the seven flights to easily outdistance runner-up St. Mary's Springs. Valley Christian was third.

St. Mary Catholic captured all three doubles championships at the meet.

Grant and Harry Bergstrom played at the No. 1 flight, while Michael Fairweather and John Osland were at No. 2 doubles and George Stanner and Ethan Tines were at No. 3 doubles.

In singles, winning titles were Wesley Auth at No. 1, Jose Vaquero at No. 2 singles and Gabe Grom at No. 3 singles, Alex Walsh finished second at No. 2 singles.

St. Mary Catholic followed up the tournament showing with a pair of dual meet wins over Fox Valley Lutheran and Menasha.

Auth and Walsh posted singles wins for the Zephyrs, while St. Mary Catholic swept all three doubles matches for a 5-2 victory.

St. Mary Catholic also beat Menasha 5-2, once again led by a sweep of all three doubles matches. The two Bergstroms, Fairweather and Osland and Stanner and Tines each posted wins, while Auth and Vaquero earned singles victories.

Rockets complete perfect run through FVA

Neenah wrapped up a perfect Fox Valley Association regular season with a 5-2 win over Appleton West.

The No. 2 doubles team of Brady Hildreth and Andrew Werner highlighted the match with a 6-0, 6-0 victory, while Carl Hein at No. 2 singles and the No. 1 doubles pairing of Satchel Moss and Ben Kotchen each dropped only one game in their respective wins.

David Murphy at No. 1 singles also won in straight sets, while Drew Kearney and Zach Bitter at No. 3 doubles won by forfeit.

Over the weekend, the Rockets picked up a 5-2 win over Whitefish Bay, which included a sweep of the three doubles matches.

Moss and Kotchen, Hildreth and Werner and Kearney and Bitter each won in straight sets, while Hein and Tristan Yun picked up singles victories.

The Rockets played their final home match on the Tom Berven courts on Tuesday night, falling in a competitive match to Arrowhead, 4-3.

Hein earned the lone singles win for the Rockets, losing just one game en route to the victory at the No. 2 flight. Both Moss and Kotchen at No. 1 doubles and Kearney and Bitter at No. 3 doubles won their matches in three sets.

GOLF

St. Mary Catholic fourth at Big East meet

Spencer Lynch led the way for the Zephyrs by taking third as St. Mary Catholic finished fourth overall at the Big East Conference Meet held at Riverdale in Sheboygan.

Lynch carded a 75 to place third in the field finishing one shot behind Jake Ganga of Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah. Kohler's Everett Schroeder earned medalist honors with a 69.

Danny Griffith turned in the second lowest score for St. Mary Catholic with an 85, followed by Cole Uhlenbrauck with an 88 and Dane Anderson with a 91.

The Zephyrs finished with a team score of 339, one shot behind Sheboygan Lutheran. Kohler won the team title with a score of 320, followed by Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah with a 329.

Neenah drops FVA dual meet to Appleton North

Luke Abing led the way for the Rockets with a 43 at Ridgeway Country Club but Neenah came up short against Appleton North on Tuesday.

Neenah finished with a score of 183, while the Lightning won the meet with a 163.

Julian Gallmeier added a 44, while Sam Coulthard and Tucker Brackin each shot 48s for the Rockets.

BASEBALL

Mackenzie's gem carries Zephyrs to win

Fisher Mackenzie hurled a one-hitter to fuel St. Mary Catholic's 3-0 win over Sheboygan Lutheran on Tuesday.

Mackenzie struck out 12 without walking a batter and needed just 86 pitches to throw the complete game.

St. Mary Catholic backed Mackenzie with two runs in the third inning and another in the sixth. Matt Bechtner finished 2-for-3 and drove in one of the Zephyrs' runs, while Aidan Birling and Noah Decker each added RBIs.

Neenah holds on to knock off Spartans

The Rockets scored three runs in the first two innings and then held on the rest of the way to beat Oshkosh North, 3-2, in a Fox Valley Association baseball game Tuesday.

Neenah totaled only three hits in the game but were able to scratch out enough runs for the win. Mack Krause, Will St. Clair and Will Sorenson each had hits in the game, while Trevor Stitchman picked up the lone RBI for the Rockets.

Krause pitched 6 2/3 innings, allowing five hits and two earned runs to get the win, before Beckett Davidson came on in relief to get the final out of the game.

The Rockets lost a pair of nonconference games Saturday, falling to De Pere, 6-0, and to Ashwaubenon, 14-7.

Against Ashwaubenon, the Rockets trailed just 7-5 going into the seventh inning when the Jaguars erupted for seven runs to all but seal the win. The Rockets scored two runs in the bottom of the inning but got no closer than the final margin.

Stitchman went 3-for-3 in the game, while Andrew Carlson hit a home run and finished with two RBIs.

Isaac Verbruggen had the lone base hit in the loss to De Pere.

Neenah also came up short against Appleton East, 8-1, Friday with Ethan Van Dyke scoring the lone Rocket run, while Stitchman and St. Clair each finished 2-for-3.

SOCCER

St. Mary Catholic falls to Waupun

Audrey Norville tallied the lone Zephyr goal as St. Mary Catholic fell to Waupun, 4-1, in a nonconference match Monday.

Norville's goal, which came off an assist from Stella Virlee, tied the match at 1 but Waupun tallied the next three goals to secure the win.

Bethany Ruppert made 10 saves in goal for the Zephyrs.

Rockets post victory over Fond du Lac

Neenah got a goal from Mia Wasco and made the tally stand up in a 1-0 win over Fond du Lac on Tuesday.

Isabella Jones finished with 12 saves to earn the shutout in goal.

renowned the Neenah tennis team, they make it more fun and make sure having fun in the first place and then you get to play good tennis."

And as much as tennis may be seen as an individual sport, it's the team aspect that Moss likes most about it.

"It's the team that makes tennis the most fun for me," said Moss, who hopes to play on the club tennis team at the University of Wisconsin next year. "All the hotel rooms we stay in and meals out, those are the things that keep it fun. The tennis is obviously fun and the competition and trying to be the best in state, but at the end of the day, your teammates are the ones making you laugh, making you enjoy the experience."

There is also fun in winning and that is something Neenah has done once again this year.

The Rockets went unbeaten in Fox Val-

SOFTBALL

Big inning carries Rockets past Cardinals

Neenah used a five-run third inning to collect a 5-1 win over Fond du Lac last Friday.

Quinn Marnocha finished with a pair of hits to lead the Neenah offense, while Morgan Harwood drove in a pair of runs. Harwood also earned the win on the mound allowing three hits and striking out eight, while not surrendering an earned run.

On Saturday, the Rockets picked up a pair of wins at the Oakfield Tournament, beating Horicon 5-3 and earning a 5-1 win over Marshall.

Neenah scored two runs in the fifth and one in the seventh to pull out the win over Horicon with Savana Knuth and Piper Alberg each posting a pair of hits in the game. Harwood struck out nine and allowed three runs in five innings to earn the win.

Kyleigh Mathe got the win against Marshall, pitching four innings and allowing one hit, one run and fanning six. Mathe, Knuth, Harwood and Taelyn Bauer each had two hits in the game for Neenah.

St. Mary Catholic rallies to beat Appleton East

The Zephyrs scored two runs in the top of the seventh to tie the score and then plated two more in the top of the eighth to secure an 8-6 win over Appleton East on Monday.

Sammi Weiss knotted the game with a two-run single in the seventh inning. Chloe Vogel then led off the eighth inning with a single and later scored on an Emily Vogel double. Jaylyn Akey then added an RBI-single to give the Zephyrs a two-run cushion.

Chloe Vogel and Rhiannon Reichenbacher each finished with three hits in the game for the Zephyrs, while Akey, Emily Vogel, Adel Schneider and Navaeh Saringer each chipped in two hits.

Allie Strand also drove in a pair of runs in the win.

TRACK AND FIELD

St. Mary Catholic girls claim Big East title

Lauren Ripley and Nolie Anderson each won events and the Zephyrs picked up a relay win to take second place among the 13 teams at the meet.

Ripley finished first in the 1,600 meters, while Anderson won the discus. The Zephyr foursome of Alejandra Cunillera Fernan-ley Association dual meet play again this season and – after finishing second in the state at the WIAA State Team Tournament last year – have their sights set high on the postseason.

"We really just have to take it match-by-match and day-by-day and focus on each practice we have because we have so few left," Moss said "A big part of what we talk about in those pre-game huddles is that we want to fight for every point and I think that's one thing we are pretty good at. We will never give up and never stop trying."

That's why Moss believes this team will be in contention again when the state tournament rolls around.

"I definitely think so. Obviously, Middleton has a really strong team and singles lineup and there are some good teams out there," Moss said. "But I think there will always be a fighting chance for us Neenah guys because we will never give up. We will fight for every last point so there will always be a chance for us no matter what."

dez, Maria Marti, Norah Lee and Addison Dinka won the 3,200-meter relay.

Ripley added a second place in the 800 meters, while Gabby Ruback also placed in the top five in two different events for St. Mary Catholic, taking second in the 100-meter hurdles and third in the long jump.

Dinka added a third place in the 800 meters, while Katharine Schoeni was fourth in the 3,200 meters for the Zephyrs, who also placed second in the 1,600-meter relay and fourth in the 800-meter relay.

The St. Mary Catholic boys also recorded a pair of individual winners as Charlie Nackers took first in the high jump and Ashton Post topped the field in the pole vault.

The Zephyrs' 800-meter relay team of Nackers, Post, Harry Higgins and Dylan Dwyer also collected a victory at the meet.

Other top finishers for the Zephyrs were: Higgins, fourth in the pole vault; Connor Riehl, fourth in the discus; and Alexander Groppe, fifth in the 800 meters. The Zephyrs were also fifth in the 400-meter, 1,600-meter and 3,200-meter relays.

Overall, the boys finished third in the meet with 61 points behind Oostburg (145) and Kohler (106).

Neenah boys third, girls fifth at FVA meet

A strong showing on the track boosted the Neenah boys to a third-place finish at the Fox Valley Association Meet on Monday at Appleton West.

The Rockets placed two runners in the top five of four different running events at the meet, with Jack Dorner collecting a pair of top five finishes. Dorner was third in the 1,600 meters, followed by teammate Wyatt Armock in fourth place, while Dorner and Ian Cowell combined for a third and fifth finish, respectively, in the 3,200 meters.

In the 400 meters, Charles Fredrickson was third and Owen Wise took fourth, while in the 800 meters it was Alex Thayer placing fourth and Carson Timm placing fifth. Grant Dean added a third place in the 200 meters.

In the field events, Connor Briones tied for second and Trevor McGinnis tied for fourth in the high jump.

The Neenah boys did post one win, finishing first in the 1,600-meter relay with a team of Fredrickson, Wise, Dean and Ethan Snider, while also picking up a second place in the 800-meter relay and a third in the 3,200-meter relay.

The girls finished fifth overall and got a strong meet from Mazie Olkowski, who won the 1,600 meters and 3,200 meters.

Lydia Delene picked up a second place in the shot put and a fourth in the discus, while Lydia Granditzke earned a third place in the 200-meter and a fifth in the long jump.

The Rockets also got wins from Rachel Dietrich in the 800 meters and the 3,200 relay team of Ava Scharlow, Dietrich, Lauren Tears and Granditzke.

Tears also picked up a second place behind Olkowski in the 1,600 meters.

PORCUPINES

A porcupine is a peaceful and pokey animal. The word pokey has two meanings. It can mean slow. Or it can mean something sharp that can poke or jab.

Porcupines have sharp, pokey quills. These are how a porcupine protects itself from predators. They can also make a porcupine look larger and more scary.

Use the code to discover what the word porcupine means.

	= G		= O
	= H		= P
	= I		= R
	= N		= T

Making a Point

Write down the numbers you find along the correct path through the maze to learn how many quills there are on a porcupine.

Don't Stick Around!

If a porcupine is attacked, its prickly quills come out and poke into the face or body of the attacker. Porcupines do not shoot their quills like arrows. But the quills come out easily when touched.

At the end of each quill is a tiny hook, like a fishhook, which makes the quill puncture and stick into skin of a predator.

Porcupines have soft fur mixed with sharp quills. The quills lie flat until a porcupine is threatened.

Standards Link: Science: Animals have distinctive adaptations to aid in survival.

Porcupines can have up to _____ quills!

Whoa, Baby!

Baby porcupines are called porcupettes. They are born covered in soft, bendable quills that harden a few days after they are born.

When attacked, a porcupine rolls up into a ball. Imagine a spiky ball!

The Tree Life

Porcupines eat leaves, twigs and fruit. _____ many live in trees!

They have long tails that they can _____ around branches to help them _____ up trees. But if they can't find a good sleeping spot in a tree, they will sleep on the ground or in a _____ log.

Porcupines are _____. This means they like to sleep during the day and stay up at night.
